

Unifiller is a proud company of the Linxis Group, a global leader in specialized equipment for bakery, pharmaceutical, and cosmetics industries. The group consists of leading companies focusing on mixing technologies, ingredient dosing systems and portioning systems. Through its various subsidiaries, the group employs approximately 1000 people.

Unifiller Systems is the only global manufacturer of transfer pumps, depositors and decorating equipment operating in Canada. Our local operations include the design, production, marketing, sales and service of machines, with the support of hundreds of staff members and suppliers. We ship machines across the globe every year.

With 5 sales offices, an 80-country dealer network and a solid reputation for high-quality equipment, our machines can be found at some of the biggest food brands across the world.

Implementing Unifiller equipment can provide our customers with a critical advantage over their competition. Our machines can:

- Increase Production Yield
- Reduce Product Waste
- Provide Greater Portion Accuracy
- Offer Better Product Integrity
- Prevent Hand or Floor Contamination
- Decrease Human Effort and Strain

Unifiller strives to deliver equipment that’s easy to install, easy to use and easy to maintain, so customers can start to see a return on their investment immediately. Our equipment is designed for minimal training, rapid sanitation and quick change-over. We continually work with our customers to design equipment that meets their needs.
